

The College of Health Sciences Library is pleased to announce that Chemical Abstract Service, Division of American Chemical Society has again offered the University of Nairobi another trial on access to SciFinder database.

The trial is now live and runs from 21st March to 20th April, 2016.

The trial is for SciFinder and includes: PatentPak, a robust patent workflow solution and MethodsNow, bringing together more than 150,000 analytical methods.

It can be accessed via www.methodsnow.com

Those who had registered earlier do not need any further registration.